HAND HYBRIDIZED

DAHLIA SEED

From our experience in the use of this seed, and the testimonials of thousands of satisfied customers that have bought this seed, we believe that this is as good as any seed ever produced of the Dahlia. We have purchased other seed from time to time for comparison, and we have never been able to get any of near equal value.

This seed is produced by hand hybridizing, not hit or miss, but from twenty years experience and careful noting of results obtained at all times. We have a very large number of extra good varieties to work from, and our long seasons of dry atmosphere give the plants a chance to produce large heavy seed of high germination that no other condition can equal. The percentage of doubles are always 50 per cent or better. In the growing gardens at the California Show for first year seedlings lots of 265 plants each, with keen competition, among the best growers, we easily took first prize. Many visiting large growers remarked that our seedlings looked like named varieties.

We send out a prize winner every year.
